

EDUCATION ASSOCIATION MAY BE FORCED TO DISBAND

Lack of Financial Support Causes Serious Embarrassment to Work.

HAS BEEN HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL

School Leagues Planted All Over State, and Very Substantial Results Obtained in Remote Sections. Has No State Aid.

Unless more generous contributions to the fund needed to carry on the work of the Co-operative Education Association of Virginia are speedily forthcoming the campaign in the interest of education, which has been successfully conducted in the remote districts, will have to be suspended, the organized system of the association will be seriously disrupted and the substantial results obtained in remote sections of Virginia, now made permanent, will be lost.

The situation, according to statements of officers of the association, is especially deplorable because of the fact that the work of the association, which is largely pioneer work, has been attended with such extraordinary success, while adequate financial support was given by the State and the Federal Government. It has been commended by officers of the educational departments of different States, and the sincerest of all flattery has been the limitation of the methods employed by the Virginia organization.

RECEIVED NO FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE FROM STATE

While affiliated with the State Department of Public Instruction and endorsed by the State Board of Education, the board is in no position to lend financial aid to the Co-operative Education Association. Its sphere of endeavor has expanded steadily in spite of the fact that it has received no financial support since its beginning, has been surprisingly meager and widely disproportionate to the excellent progress it has made. But the thirty-five districts which have received the benefits of the association's work, and whose interest was won by the earnestness, persistence and sustained effort of the few indefatigable men and women directing its affairs, have shown that the association would have long ago been compelled to abandon its campaign.

The association has reached a crisis in its career. The future usefulness of the organization, which has done so much for the isolated sections of the State depends upon the degree of substantial interest that will be given to a movement just launched to raise funds to sustain the work of the association. Financial assistance is being made, and 2,000 copies of a circular letter setting forth the needs of the association will be sent to prominent citizens in every county, city and town in the State.

DISCUSSING THE SITUATION LAST NIGHT

Professor Jesse H. Binford, the field secretary, said:

"If the association is to continue we must receive more generous support from the people of Virginia."

"The Co-operative Education Association is carrying on a campaign in Virginia to raise funds for the maintenance of its work. Heretofore the association has received over half of its budget from the Southern Education Board. But on the death of Robert C. the board of the association has dissolved. Thus it is necessary to raise the entire budget of $5,000 here in Virginia."

"The association is the only voluntary association in the State working solely for the improvement of country life, better schools, better roads, better health, better farming."

"It promotes four special days: Path-day, at which time all children come together to consider the needs of schools. On this day last year meetings were held in over 900 schools, 227 school grounds were improved, and $11,332 collected for improvement."

"Good Roads Day, with a prize for the best paper by a high school pupil on 'The Value of Good Roads.'"

"Health Day, in connection with the State Health Department."

"Farm Life Meeting for the consideration of means of making country life more attractive."

"The special days have attracted the attention of educational and social workers the country over. Only recently articles in praise of the work of the association have appeared in the American City, the State's Companion, the Report of the United States Bureau of Education."

SCHOOL AND CIVIC LEAGUES ATTRACT WIDE ATTENTION

"The greatest work of the association is that of the school and civic leagues. There are 506 of these organizations in the country schools of the State, 25,000 members, regular monthly meetings are held. Last year $60,000 was raised for the improvement of country life."

"The association works with all the several departments and agencies of the State. It is, of course, closely allied with the State Department of Education and receives the support of the Superintendent R. C. Stearnes, who is a firm believer in the work, and chairman of the executive committee of the association."

"Each year the association issues a list of speakers for public schools containing the names of the best and leading citizens who are willing to deliver addresses in public schools. It also furnishes the newspapers of the State with articles on educational progress. Last year over 40,000 articles were mailed from the office of the association."

"The officers and executive committee of the association are:

ON BOARD OF DIRECTORS
President, Mr. E. B. Munford; vice-president, Dr. J. C. Stuart; Major James H. Dooley, Dr. J. P. McComell; Treasurer, Henry W. Anderson; executive and field secretary, Jesse H. Binford; executive committee, Dr. Stearnes, J. D. Eggleston, James H. Dooley, Westmoreland Davis, Frank W. Darling, Edwin A. Alderman, H. B. Friswell, Murray Boocock, Jackson Davis, Charles G. Maples, George W. Kolner, Ella G. Agnew, John Stewart Bryan, T. O. Sandy, Henry W. Anderson, George P. Coleman, James H. Dilson, George P. Coleman, J. W. Ritchie, Allen W. Freeman, J. A. C. Chandler, T. Mastin and Thomas S. Wheelwright.

"The secretary, Professor Binford, has held that position for the past five years. During that time he has visited practically every neighborhood in Virginia and has greatly popularized the work of the association with the teachers of the State and with citizens in the different counties."

"The work of the association in the past decade was made possible by a source outside of the State, the Southern Education Board. That support being cut off, it is necessary to raise the annual budget of $5,000 here in Virginia. Hence the appeal now made."

BRIGGS FINED FOR ACCOSTING WOMAN

Addressed Her as "Baby and Invited Her to Get in His Motor Car.

George W. Briggs, Jr., of the Chesterfield Apartments, was fined $25 and costs in the Police Court yesterday for accosting a woman on a charge of addressing insulting remarks to Mrs. George W. Briggs, Jr., 621 North Seventh Street, while she was seated in a taxicab on Monday night.

Mrs. Black repudiated the contents of a letter which Briggs presented to the court on Monday and in which it was stated that the woman had been taken with regard to the exact words used by Briggs when he accosted her. She said she had no intention of receiving the young man from responsibility for the insult.

Policeman Clarke was one of the principal witnesses against Briggs, for he said he saw Briggs accosting the woman as she took a taxi Saturday night. The testimony was to the effect that Briggs and a companion were in an automobile when Mrs. Black left the car and went to her home. They are alleged to have called to her, and she was taken to notice of her remarks. Briggs is said to have jumped from the machine and to have followed her nearly a square. He appended to her several times as "baby" and "invited her to take a ride with him in the machine," it was said.

Justice Griggs, in fining the man, said he was determined to protect women on the streets, and that he did not propose to allow such conduct as that of Briggs to go unpunished. The $25 fine was paid.

Woman Held Up.

Detectives were yesterday endeavoring to locate the person who is alleged to have held up Louise Dents, colored, employed in the home of E. A. Palmer, 40 West Franklin Street, on Monroe Street during the early part of Monday night. The woman said she was held up and robbed of $20 and a pocketbook valued at $1.
